

Relationship Tapping Statements

Welcome to your Relationship Tapping journey! You're about to explore a powerful collection of statements designed to bring clarity, peace, and healing to your connections.

We know there's a lot here to unpack – a rich tapestry of insights for your heart. We highly recommend dedicating a focused chunk of time to this work, anywhere from 20 to 60 minutes per session. However, please resist the urge to push beyond that. Over-tapping isn't necessary, and burnout isn't helpful!

This means you'll naturally only be able to deep-dive into a handful of these transformative statements in a single session. And that's perfectly by design! Our experience shows that if you approach each statement thoroughly, truly tapping it down to a zero intensity level, you'll likely feel profoundly better and lighter after just addressing a few.

Think of it as peeling an onion, layer by layer. You don't need to tackle everything at once. Simply pick the statements that resonate most strongly with you right now, give them your full attention, and trust that you can always return to others in future sessions. Your healing journey is a marathon, not a sprint.
